"Evon Technologies is an IT staff augmentation company supporting product teams, startups, and enterprises with remote developers and dedicated engineering teams. We help businesses scale development capacity across web, mobile, cloud, and enterprise technologies without long hiring cycles.

Clients can engage developers on their own payroll or choose Evon's eHire option, where we manage employment, compliance, and retention. In both models, developers work as part of the client's team, aligned with existing tools, workflows, and delivery standards.

Our focus is on long-term team stability, low attrition, and predictable delivery. Companies partner with Evon to reduce hiring overhead, maintain continuity, and scale engineering teams with clarity and control."
