Want to implement a highly professional business phone system to broaden your business and reinforce its presence? Pulse offers a cloud-based virtual phone number system- a robust phone service to route your incoming customer calls to the right agent. Since it is hosted on a cloud platform, your virtual business number can discreetly mask your customer's numbers to ensure their privacy and security.

As India's leading service provider, we at Pulse know that virtual phone number services play an integral role in many businesses. This is why we've primed our service to benefit you in multiple ways. With Pulse, you have the freedom to choose area codes and glean insightful call analytics. Above all, call connectivity issues are non-existent with Pulse.
