Gavin Symanowitz - Founder of Feedback Rocket - has been a long-time client of Acquaint Softech Private Limited where he found a quality team of developers and turned his idea into a reality. Gavin assembled a team of four developers, one designer, one QA tester, and one project manager from us. The distance never bothered him as he was in constant touch with us throughout the project and sailed it to completion without any hiccups. Feedback Rocket is an online survey company that helps you gather genuine feedback from your team or target audience as the participants stay anonymous. It also offers great customizations to meet your needs for the survey.

Think Partner, Not Agency

Acquaint Softtech is a global engineering partner helping agencies, SaaS founders, and enterprises scale their development capacity with vetted remote developers. We provide dedicated Laravel, MERN, MEAN, Python, WordPress, WooCommerce, Statamic, Bagisto, DevOps, Project Managers, and full cross-functional teams starting at competitive hourly rates.

As an Official Laravel Partner with a 70+ in-house engineering team, we deploy fully vetted developers within 48 hours. Our clients use us to extend their teams, build enterprise applications, modernize existing systems, or accelerate roadmap execution without the overhead of full-time hiring.

We focus on high-quality staff augmentation, dedicated teams, and long-term development partnerships. Every engagement follows an NDA-backed onboarding process, ISO-aligned workflows, transparent delivery, and continuous communication.

What clients get with us:

- 48-hour onboarding for remote developers
- Scale from 1 to 20+ engineers anytime
- 70+ in-house developers across 10+ stacks
- 12+ month average engagement

- Proven delivery across 200+ global projects
- Expertise in SaaS, eCommerce, API development, modernization, and AI-led solutions

Whether you're building a new product, strengthening an existing engineering team, or looking for reliable long-term development support, Acquaint Softtech becomes your dedicated tech partner focused on predictable delivery and measurable outcomes.
